CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Dear IISSM Members, Security and HRD Professionals

It gives me immense pleasure to invite you all to the 2 Day Virtual 32nd Annual Global Conclave of the International Institute of Security and Safety Management (IISSM), New Delhi, India, on 18-19 Nov 2022. The theme of the Conclave this year is "Security, Safety & Loss Prevention: An Enabler for Nation Building".

National Security is the very foundation of Nation Building and the curriculum of this Conclave aims to focus on the relevant features of Security, Safety, and Loss Prevention applications. The disastrous effect on businesses, trade and industry all over the world due to the Covid Pandemic, the on-going war between Russia and Ukraine and the on-going collapse of the economy and subsequent serious unrest in Sri Lanka are eye openers indicating that building strong and resilient nations is the need of the hour. We need to be "Atma Nirbhar", or self-reliant if we are to face the uncertain future with confidence and strength. It is this need that has prompted us to formulate our overarching theme for this conclave.

We have gathered a galaxy of experts amongst the best of minds from India and abroad from whose Key Note speeches and Panel Discussions, I am sure, the participants will richly benefit. I encourage all of you to take full advantage of this opportunity, participate in the question-answer sessions and offer your suggestions for improvement of our future programs.

Yours Sincerely

S K Sharma, IPS (Retd)
Chairman, IISSM
Founder and Former Director General,

EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Dear Members, Stakeholders, and Delegates,

It gives me great pleasure to invite you all to the 32nd Annual Global Conclave of the International Institute of Security and Safety Management (IISSM)!

The overarching theme for this year's Conclave is "Security, Safety & Loss Prevention: An Enabler for Nation Building".

We are passing through seriously challenging times for past 3 years. We have just about come through a serious viral pandemic and we are now facing the effects of an ongoing war in eastern Europe. Added to these woes we are seeing the virtual collapse of a country on our borders - my reference is to Sri Lanka – which is primarily a result of mismanagement of its economy and over-dependence on the goodwill and aid of other countries. These developments have not only adversely impacted the entire global economy but have accentuated the need for all of us to focus on all matters relating to National Security and Nation Building. They have thrown upon many challenges, some of which are new and will need innovative solutions to tackle. We cannot take anything for granted and must seriously focus on new ways to ensure the Security, and Safety of our businesses and ensure Loss Prevention in our industry as a whole. We must partner with our government in the effort of Nation Building so that our country is strong and resilient and capable of facing any unforeseen calamity or threat to the security of our people and the integrity of our country. We need to be "Atma Nirbhar" or self-reliant, and not overly dependent on others. These thoughts have prompted us to formulate the theme for our conclave this year.

The current threat of radical Islamic terrorism is creating socio-communal tension, all over the Country, which also cannot be taken casually and ignored.

As we have done in the past more than three decades we have endeavoured to bring together the best of the minds from the industry, academia, and government from India and abroad to discuss the challenges of the present and discuss the modalities for ensuring national security to ensure growth, prosperity and business success.

I look forward to your active participation! Let us make the 32nd IISSM Global Conclave a grand success!

CHAIRMAN, IISSM FOUNDATION

Dear Members, Stakeholders and Delegates,

It gives me great pleasure to invite you all to the 32nd Annual Global Conclave of the International Institute of Security and Safety Management (IISSM). The theme for this year's conclave is “Security, Safety & Loss Prevention: An Enabler for Nation Building”.

We have just about recovered from the devastating effects of the Covid pandemic when we find ourselves passing through a tumultuous period exacerbated by the ongoing war in Europe that is harming trade and commerce across nations. We are also witnessing the collapse of a bordering country, Sri Lanka, and this too will affect business and trade in the region. At this moment, therefore, the security of our country and the safety of its people should be our priorities. There is an imperative need to build a strong and resilient economy and to assist the efforts of the government in the task of Nation Building. These thoughts have prompted us to formulate our theme for this year's conclave.

We are once again organizing the event online this year, as in the past, and we have endeavoured to bring together the best of the minds from industry, academia, and administration to discuss the challenges we now face with the hope that we will come up with solutions to the several problems that recent developments have thrown at us. I am sure that at the end of the conclave we will be in a better position to find solutions to answer some, if not all the problems.

I look forward to your active participation in the conclave and would like to assure you that all of us will benefit profit from the experience.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members, Stakeholders and Delegates,

It is a matter of great pride for me to invite you to the 32nd Annual Global Conclave of the International Institute of Security and Safety Management (IISSM). The over arching theme is "Security, Safety & Loss Prevention : An Enabler for Nation Building ". This year too, the Conclave will be organized on a Virtual Platform, the third year in a row.

The subject for the Conclave couldn't be more apt and timely as the world is experiencing turbulence in terms of national Security. The globe is yet to recover fully from the effects of Pandemic and sudden eruption of war in Europe has put the wheel in the reverse gear. With this sudden change in the geo politics, business realities are will experience a surge of realignment and repositioning in overall geo-political matrix. It goes without saying that the Security, Safety, and Loss Prevention cannot and should not be ignored at any cost else whatever nation states would be lost forever.

As in the past, we are bringing in best of the minds across the globe as speakers and thus look forward to your active participation to make the 32nd IISSM Global Conclave a grand success!

Thank you.

DIRECTOR GENERAL MESSAGE

Dear Members, Stakeholders, and Delegates,

It is a matter of great pride for me to invite you to the 32nd Annual Global Conclave of the International Institute of Security and Safety Management (IISSM). The overarching theme for this conclave is "Security, Safety & Loss Prevention: An Enabler for Nation Building". This year too, given constraints of travel and large gatherings, the conclave is being organized on a Virtual Platform.

You will agree that the theme for this year's conclave couldn't be more apt and timely - we have just about recovered from a serious pandemic that disrupted life in more ways than one and left whole sections of the business world in disarray. No sooner did we come out of this pandemic (which by no means has completely disappeared) than we saw a serious conflict in Europe between Russia and Ukraine that has ramifications for the security and safety of other parts of the world. This war has adversely impacted commerce and trade throughout the world and many are facing everything from food scarcity to energy shortages and more. Following on its heels is the collapse of a neighbouring country, Sri Lanka which too will have ramifications for India and Indian businesses as well as world trade as Sri Lanka lies on the sea routes so vital to it. National Security becomes of prime importance in such times and the focus must be on Nation Building to ensure that we do not get overwhelmed by these developments. Security, Safety, and Loss Prevention in our businesses must then be our focus and hence our endeavour to focus on these aspects.

We have, as in the past, attempted to bring together domain experts and policymakers to articulate their thoughts on these subjects and to suggest solutions to the myriad challenges that these developments have thrown up. I hope you all will actively participate in the conclave's deliberations in the question-answer sessions and have great takeaways from your interactions with the domain experts, policymakers, and panelists.

Thank you.

Rajan K Medhekar, IPS (Retd) •
Director General, IISSM
